SCOTT AIR FORCE BASE, Ill. – Members of the media are invited to interview the 375th Airlift Wing Commander Col. Barbara Faulkenberry 2:30 p.m today about the arrival of the Air Mobility Command Sexual Assault Assessment Team Friday.

Three assessment teams will visit all 12 AMC installations through Friday to review each base's sexual assault response programs. These teams consist of members from six functional areas such as personnel, legal, surgeon general, and the office of special investigations. The three teams organized by the AMC Inspector General's office are meeting with wing representatives and agencies that interface with sexual assault victims.
